In the bazaar we saw them using hand blocks to print cloth and it was truly an amazing thing to see. Of course I wanted some of everything I saw! They handcarve the blocks they use for printing and some of them are very elaborate.

By the time you all get this I suppose Bobbie will be in Panama. She was waiting on her port call the first of August. We are glad she got to go on but sure will be sorry not to get to see Theresa again until she is a big girl.

Lynn, the pictures and clipping you wrote about in your last letter never did arrive. Did you mail them?

Bo, we sure did appreciate your letter. I guess you will be the only one who can come see us when we get home. By the time Daddy gets home, Edo won't be able to make that trip and Lynn and family are too far away. There is so much that I would like to tell you about but just can't get it all on paper. We have made a lot of pictures and I just hope they are good.

I don't know whether I will have time to write again before we leave but I will try to drop a card or two along the way home.

We love all of you and wish we could see you.

All our love,

MOTHER, DAD, JIM

MY SECRETARY IS GETTING BETTER. NOT TOO MANY MISTAKES ON THIS ONE.
