

group in an hour.
This whole thing of my changing jobs is working out so well that you can't help feeling that "someone besides man" had a hand in it.
We are well pleased about everything and just as happy as can be.

Bo + Shirley were over at Lynn's house last night and we talked to them on the phone. We sure do miss not being able to run over to see them. But I guess that is a part of having a family.

We have loaded out and are now ready to take off again.
Next landing will be Baltimore.