SUN. MORNING

DEAREST BROWNIE & JIM:

Your letter was waiting for me here. You don't know how good it is to walk in an office and find a letter from you. I guess I last wrote to you from Saigon. It is hard for me to keep up with the time much less when I last wrote to you, and what I told you when I did write. I know one thing, you have written to me much more than I have to you. Yesterday afternoon and today are the 1st of spare times I have had on the whole trip. And I am behind on my reports to the office, but I should catch up on that today.

Hong Kong is something! I wish you and Jim could be here and see it. I just don't know how to describe it. I took a few pictures from the car ferry crossing from Kowloon to Hong Kong Island from the air port to the Hotel. I am meeting an
